

2... The View From Here

Quest Objectives:

1. Read "Issue 8: Going Public" in Understanding Rhetoric (our last reading!).
2. Collaboratively, work together to write a draft of a Game Design Document (GDD) for your project. To do this, download the specifications here, and create a copy of the document in Google Drive (or an alternative your group chooses).

This document may seem lengthy and over-the-top, but it is both a useful tool for making sure you and your group mates are on the same page about major design choices, and is also a good example of a highly conventionalized genre. You are welcome to edit the document: add categories, remove useless ones, etc.

3. Once you have finished a complete draft (as in, you have something in each of the categories), you have completed this quest! Send a link to the Google Doc to the GM via email.

Remember, this is a live document; it will evolve as your project does. It will change- that's totally fine. Remember, you will be submitting a copy of the final GDD along with your final project, so be prepared!
